U. S. PLANES AID IN DEFENSE OF VITAL DUTCH INDIES

FIGHTING ON BATAN EASES UP

War Department Reports Lull in Hostilities During Past Twenty-four Hours, As Japan's Siege Armies Still Hesitate to Gamble On Direct Assault Against Bastion of Singapore

FLAMING ARTILLERY DUEL ACROSS STRAIT

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Japan's siege armies still hesitated to gamble on a direct assault against Singapore amid flaming artillery duels across the mile-wide Johore Strait today, while Japanese warplanes again attacked the big Dutch naval base at Soerabaja, Java, and Port Moresby, New Guinea.

A war department bulletin said U. S. army P-40 pursuit planes, aiding in the defense of the vital Dutch Indies, attacked a greatly superior force of Japanese bombers and fighting planes in Java. A Japanese bomber and a pursuit plane were shot down, the war department said. One American plane was listed as missing. It was the first indication that American pursuit planes, piloted by U. S. army fliers, had reached the Indies.

Java is the headquarters of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander in chief of United Nations forces in the Far Pacific. The war department also reported a lull in the battle of Batan during the past 24 hours, with action lacking "the savage character of the fighting which has been almost continuous for the past two weeks."

British headquarters said Singapore's defense guns silenced Japanese batteries and raked Japanese transport in the Johore Bahru area directly across from the beleaguered island. Four-engine Japanese flying boats attacked Port Moresby before dawn, dropping 30 bombs and blasting away with cannon and machine-gun fire in the second raid there in three days.

Port Moresby is the capital of Papua, in southeastern New Guinea, 300 miles from Cape York, Australia.

An N. E. I. communique acknowledged fires were set and material damage inflicted in the Japanese assault on Soerabaja this morning. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

AXIS CONTINUE BRITISH PURSUIT ACROSS DESERT

Over Three Thousand Prisoners Reported Taken During January in the Hostilities Around Cirenaica

Cairo, Feb. 5.—(P)—Advance units of German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's African army today were believed to have carried their advance to within 50 miles of Tobruk in a continuing Axis counter-offensive that has covered 180 miles eastward since the capture of Benghazi. This was the general interpretation of an RAF communique reporting that British bombers had been active both east and west of Tobruk. The town itself, at the eastern base of the Cirenaican bulge, is 60 miles west of Tobruk and 140 miles from the Libyan-Egyptian border.

The RAF also announced a new attack on Sicily yesterday, in which a freight train and railway bridge were bombed "with good results."

British fighter planes were credited with damaging several raiders of a strongly-escorted enemy bomber squadron which attacked Malta yesterday. But eight RAF planes were listed as missing.

Meanwhile the German high command in Berlin said that reports thus far received told of 3,500 British prisoners brought in during the fighting in Cirenaica in January. These reports also said 370 armored cars and 192 guns were captured or destroyed. (In Axis raiding on Malta, British island base in the Mediterranean, German bombers dumped "heavy and super-heavy bombs" on the port of Valletta, the high command said.)

Blind Insist They Be Given Part in Actual War Work

Blood, Time and Money Given to War Program Cheerfully Contributed But Sightless Want to Share Real Burdens

CAMPAIGN IS OPENED
Harrisburg, Feb. 5.—(P)—Blood, time and money given the nation's war program by the blind are cheerfully contributed, but they want a share of the actual work, sightless Gayle Burlingame declared today.

"We've been on the receiving end getting pensions for quite a few years," asserted the director of Pennsylvania's Council for the Blind. "It's time for us to give whatever we can and we're going to insist on a chance."

Opening a drive in this direction, he obtained employment by the commonwealth for the first time of a blind stenographer-clerk, 24-year-old Margaret Johnson, who uses Braille shorthand as well as dictating records at a yearly salary of $1,080.

"I hope her work will sell the state and the federal government on the idea of using blind persons to fill any shortage of help resulting from the military draft," said Burlingame.

HUGE FUND FOR NAVY APPROVED

Senate Completes Legislative Action in Five Minutes on $26,495,265,474 Supply Bill, Boosting Total Appropriations to Approximately $39,000,000,000 in Month

AID FOR CHINA ALSO GETS SWIFT APPROVAL

Washington, Feb. 5.—(P)—The senate completed legislative action in five minutes today on a $26,495,265,474 naval supply bill, boosting congress' total military appropriations to approximately $39,000,000,000 in the first month of this session.

This action followed swiftly on a 72-to-0 vote by which it passed and sent to the White House a measure making $500,000,000 in financial aid available to China. The fund to be administered by the secretary of the treasury under direction of the president. The huge naval bill, largest measure of its kind ever to win final approval of a legislative body, now goes to President Roosevelt for his expected early signature. Congress previously had voted a $12,550,000,000 army airplane appropriation. Finally approved, the navy measure carried approximately $8,000,000,000 in cash and contract authority to produce 25,063 additional airplanes and equipment for the navy in the next six months. Ship construction would entail expenditures of $8,206,000,000. Direct operations would cost $6,929,000,000 and $1,339,000,000 would go into ordnance and personnel payments.

Only 2 minutes of debate preceded senate passage of the China aid measure. Passed yesterday by the house, the bill was approved speedily by the senate foreign relations committee. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

REGISTERING GERMAN IS WORSE THAN DEATH

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—(P)—Worse than death to Gustave M. Scharzrock, a Pole who has lived in the United States for 20 years, was the immigration service order that he must register as a German enemy alien.

Immigration authorities so ruled because Scharzrock embarked for this country from Bremen, Germany. Last night a police report stated he hanged himself at his home.

BURMESE ROAD THREATENED BY INVADING FORCES

Rangoon, Burma, Feb. 5.—(P)—The British officially acknowledged today that Japanese patrols had crossed the lower Salween river at a number of points since the invaders occupied Moulmein last Saturday. The Japanese occupied Paan, 30 miles above Moulmein, several days ago, a British military spokesman said, and the RAF reported it had subjected the town to a bombing raid. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Redistricting Agreement Clears Decks for Calling Of a Special Session Soon

Rising Sun, Ind., to Stand Pat on Name

Rising Sun, Ind., Feb. 5.—(P)—Residents of this Ohio River town of 1,500, their mayor says, don't see why they should change the name just because it happens to describe the emblem on the Japanese flag. The latest suggestion came yesterday by way of Governor Henry F. Schricker's office, from Edmund J. Rucker of Indianapolis, who nominated "Pearl Harbor" as a new name. Proponents of name change have argued the current one seems unpatriotic, but townspeople want the world to know it is as homegrown as the tag "Hoosier," and has nothing to do with Nippon.

Governor James Declines To Name Date When Lawmakers Are to be Summoned Back to Harrisburg

WARREN TO BE SHIFTED

Harrisburg, Feb. 5.—(P)—The signing of an agreement on a congressional redistricting plan by a legislative committee clears the way today for the calling of a special assembly to put the proposal on the statute books. Governor James said he would issue the call next week, but declined to say what day he would bring the lawmakers back into the chambers they left last July in sharp disagreement over the reapportionment problem. The assembly members began to reserve hotel rooms here while James figured out what other subjects he could include in the call. A special session is limited to consideration of the topics covered in his proclamation. Nine of the ten members of the special committee signed the agreement last yesterday, after a heated meeting on the plan reportedly outlined in December. The signatures were demanded by James as a pre-requisite to calling an extra session in the hope it would assure passage of the plan. The redistricting is necessary as a result of Pennsylvania's standing in the 1940 census, which costs her a seat in congress. The plan adopted would reduce the membership from 24 to 23, by: 1. Republicans giving up a northern tier district normally in their column—by shifting counties in that area around. 2. Democrats giving up one of their districts in Allegheny county. 3. Electing one congressman at large. One Democratic member of the committee of five Republicans and five Democrats fought the proposal, and refused to sign it. He was Rep. William L. Shaffer of Allegheny. Democratic National Committeeman David L. Lawrence also opposed dropping the Allegheny district, but said he did not anticipate a fight over it in the special session.

RAF SCATTERS U. S. LEAFLETS ACROSS FRANCE

Pamphlets Strewn Over Occupied Areas Proclaim Scope of America's War Plans Along With Hopeful Message

DROP OVER 2,000,000

Washington, Feb. 5.—(P)—RAF bombers, doubling as delivery boys for the U. S. A., are strewing occupied France with pamphlets by the millions, proclaiming the gigantic scope of America's war plans and conveying to a conquered people the implicit message: "The Yanks are coming." Presidential Secretary Stephen Early made known the newest series of pamphlet raids today, and disclosed that the leaflet bombardment was particularly intense on the Brittany peninsula. The same ports and towns were the first to see the doughboys a quarter of a century ago, and that maritime section of France would be one of the first likely theatres of action whenever the United Nations are ready to open a major invasion campaign to regain the continent. Early, who reported that a total of 1,417,500 pamphlets had been dropped in the latest raids, said he had been told that operations to date constituted "the biggest pamphlet bombing job ever done." More than 2,000,000 leaflets were dropped in the initial raids a month ago. Significant or not, the Britanny (Turn to Page Thirteen)

CONGRESSMAN JOINS UP

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 5.—(P)—One of the newest officers reporting for duty at the Fifth District naval headquarters here, is Rep. Francis E. Walter, Eastern Pa. Democrat. The lieutenant commander in the naval reserve served as an ensign in naval aviation during the first World War. He has represented the 1st Pennsylvania district for ten years.

KAI-SHEK FORCE WIPES OUT TOWN

Chungking, China, Feb. 5.—(P)—A Chinese communique today said Japanese infiltrations had been pushed back to the east and west of Walchow, a port on the east river in Kwangtung province, which recently was recaptured by the Chinese.

Downstream, however, the Japanese succeeded in recapturing the town of Pokio, on the main road, 10 miles below Walchow. On both sides of the Chang river, in the Nanchang area, the Chinese reported they slaughtered or wounded 2,600 Japanese, wiping out a garrison at a railroad town on the east bank. Five hundred soldiers of the Nanking puppet regime who recently deserted the Japanese and joined Chiang Kai-Shek are being reorganized behind the Chinese lines, the Chinese reported.

A Chinese army spokesman said at a press conference today that five Japanese divisions totaling about 100,000 men had been withdrawn from China since the Pacific war began. Meanwhile, the newspaper Ta Kungpao and the Communist New China Daily News stressed the gravity of the situation in Burma. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

NAZIS ARE UNABLE TO HALT REDS

Soviet Guerilla Detachments Said to be Creating Wholesale Panic Behind German Lines as Hitler Armies Seek to Throw Up Fortifications And Attempt Counter-Attacks

OPTIMISTIC MESSAGE BY SOVIET PRESIDENT

Moscow, Feb. 5.—(P)—President Michael Kalinin in a message to the Soviet people today proclaimed that "the hour is near when all the occupied republics (of Russia) will return to the family" of the Soviet Union. Closer and closer each day, he said, the Red army is approaching the borders of White Russia, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania. "Every day," he went on, "more occupied places in the Ukraine return to their country (Russia)."

His message, spread across the main pages of the newspapers, said that although the Germans were fighting for every inch of ground the Russians had driven the invaders back as far as 175 miles in some places. Soviet guerrilla detachments today were reported to be creating wholesale panic behind the German lines as the Nazi armies sought to throw up fortifications and attempted counter-attacks in many sectors of the front. Dispatches told of wide-ranging damaging Soviet raids on the railway lines essential to the Nazi efforts to bring up reserves. On one sector of the southwestern front the guerrilla hands were said to be marching 35 miles nightly in a systematic plan of destruction of German communications.

On the main battle front, meanwhile, today's Soviet communique announced recapture of five localities in the Kalinin area, with 5,300 of the defending Germans slain or wounded, and the seizure of six other populated places on the central front.

In this zone the Red army apparently was pushing westward on the road to Smolensk in the teeth of snow and ice and bitter Nazi resistance. The "Kalinin front," on which the Russians said they destroyed 27 German anti-aircraft guns and eight machine-guns, presumably refers to the province which "extends clear to the Latvian frontier, rather than to the immediate vicinity of the city of Kalinin." Before Leningrad, Russian units were declared to have smashed 27 German gun positions, killing more than 400 German officers and men. The Russians indicated that the German air force still is hitting at Moscow, reporting that seven German planes were brought down yesterday in that vicinity.

ALIENS ON ISLAND OFF SEATTLE ARRESTED

Seattle, Feb. 5.—(P)—Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters announced the arrest of 15 Japanese aliens on Bainbridge Island yesterday and the seizure of a quantity of explosives and firearms. All aliens were ordered recently to turn in all firearms and other contraband. Bainbridge Island has a strategic position close to the navy yard at Bremerton and has been designated by the governors as a restricted protective area, in which all firearms must be registered by both citizens and aliens.

SPIES THWARTED BY FBI ROUNDUP

New York, Feb. 5.—(P)—An FBI roundup of German spies in the summer of 1941 was said by a witness in federal court today to have hampered the operations of several members of another alleged espionage ring. One man fled to a mountain hideout and a woman made plans to leave for Japan with information on defense industries, army camps and the huge Douglas B-19 bomber, the witness said. Eighteen-year-old Lucy Boehm, who has pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy to violate the espionage act, testified for the third day at the trial of six men and one woman. Miss Boehm testified that (Turn to Page Thirteen)

LATE WAR BULLETINS

By the Associated Press
London, Feb. 5.—(P)—The British admiralty announced tonight that the submarine Triumph had been lost.

Moscow, Feb. 5.—(P)—A Russian pilot flying an American-built plane today was credited with downing six German aircraft in recent air battles on the Moscow approaches.

London, Feb. 5.—(P)—An official spokesman said today Prime Minister Churchill would make a statement at the next meeting of the house of commons on the duties of the new minister of war production, Lord Beaverbrook.

Canberra, Australia, Feb. 5.—(P)—Male aliens over 18 must register by Feb. 10, under a plan by which aliens will serve in the armed forces or civil defense, the army ministry announced today. Fort Custer, Mich., Feb. 5.—(P)—Army engineers today termed "entirely feasible" a report that German pilots carry portable oil refining sets in their planes to refine their own fuel from captured oil fields. London, Feb. 5.—(P)—The German army is sending several fresh divisions to the front, mostly of older classes, the Kuibyshev radio said today in a broadcast recorded by Exchange Telegraph. Berlin (From German Broadcasts)—Feb. 5.—(P)—The German radio reported today that the Rangoon, Burma, radio had ceased transmission. It added that the latest Bangkok reports said the radio station was destroyed in a Japanese air raid last night.

ENEMY ALIENS MUST REGISTER AT POST OFFICE

Registration of all Warren county residents who are natives citizens denizens or subjects of any foreign nation or government with which war has been declared will be started at the post offices in Warren and Sheffield on Monday, February 9 and will continue through Saturday, February 28.

Under the orders of the U. S. Department of Justice, all aliens from Germany, Italy and Japan who are 14 years of age or older are required to apply at first or second class post offices for certificates of identification.

Such certificates are to contain the alien's photograph and must thereafter be carried by the person to whom issued.

The persons who do not comply with the requirements are subject to severe penalties.

Printed slips containing full information concerning the registration are now available at the post offices here and in Sheffield and should be obtained at once, it was pointed out today by Postmaster James K. Bell.

In applying for certificates of identification, aliens subject to the registration must present three unmounted photographs with light background 2 by 2 inches on this paper. These photographs must be taken not more than 30 days prior to presenting the application.

The applicants also must present their alien registration cards which were previously issued.

Postmaster Bell said today that he has no estimate of the number of enemy aliens registered here.

At the last alien registration there were approximately 700 non-citizens registered. These include a large percentage of Italians but no Japanese and very few Germans.

Work will get under way soon on the first modern shaft into the oil sands of Pennsylvania, following the formation of a company made up of individuals and producing, refining and marketing companies, for that purpose, it was announced today.

Leo Ramey, outstanding figure and inventor of the method of horizontal drilling, has been named technical adviser for the firm.

Plans call for the sinking of a circular shaft 8 feet in diameter and about 400 feet deep into the Venango sand near Franklin in the Middle District of the Pennsylvania region. The oil in that region is known as the Franklin heavy crude with an unusually high lubricating content and less gasoline and other light distillates than any other crude produced in Pennsylvania.

The work should be followed with the keenest interest not only in Pennsylvania fields, but throughout the oil industry generally since it may prove to be the first large scale test of the horizontal drilling theory in the world.

The new company, to be known as the Venango Development Corporation is made up of the following:

Producing companies - South Penn Oil Company, Pittsburgh with operations in all sections of the Pennsylvania field, Forest Oil Company, Bradford, with operations in the Bradford-Allegheny fields and in the West.

Refining and marketing companies—Quaker State Oil Refining Corporation, Oil City; the Pennzoil Company, Oil City; Alliance Oil Corporation, New York; K. I. Oil Refining Company, Bradford; United Refining Company, Warren; Franklin Creek Refining Company, Canfield; Oil Company, Cleveland; Pennsylvania Refining Company, Butler; Freedom Oil Company, Freedom, Pa.

Individuals—Early, Emory, of Bradford; John Herick, Olean, N. Y.; Clarence M. Davison, New York, N. Y.; V. V. Francon management trustee, Bolivar, N. Y.; Grant & Grant, Franklin.

The shaft will be sunk on the property owned by D. W. Grant and his nephew, Dohman S. Grant in Sugar Creek township Venango county.

The shaft will be dug not drilled about 400 feet deep. The shaft will be eight feet in diameter, with a circular working chamber at the bottom, 27 feet in diameter. Both shaft and chamber will be lined with 12 and 18 inches of concrete.

From the chamber it is anticipated that three-inch holes will be bored horizontally from the working chamber into the face of the sand and will extend up to distances of 2,000 feet. The number of holes to be drilled was not stated and nothing was said as to whether the repurposing would be applied.

Under the proposed plan the oil will flow by gravity from the horizontal holes into a pump at the bottom of the working chamber, by which it will be pumped to the surface. Cost of the project is estimated at $75,000.

President John Quincy Adams once taught rhetoric at Harvard.

WAR TIME WILL BE STARTED AT 2 A. M. MONDAY

"War Time," proclaimed by President Roosevelt for the duration of the war and for six months thereafter, will go into effect throughout the country at 2 a. m. next Monday, February 9, with all clocks turned ahead one hour to conform to the ruling.

Wartime daylight saving regulations will be countrywide instead of being restricted to certain localities where voted upon. All schools, including those of Warren and surrounding territory, will operate upon the new war time schedule as will industries transportation facilities and the like.

It was stated today by Pennsylvania Railroad Company officials here that the only change in schedules may occur on Monday morning of next week, when the westbound flyer No. 581, which is due at 7:02 may be delayed because of its leaving Philadelphia the night before on operating schedules will remain the same as now.

The same delay on Monday may apply to buses which have left certain areas on standard time Sunday evening but, like the trains, bus companies will attempt to reduce this delay to the minimum.

Readers are asked to keep in mind that no local proclamation or ruling is necessary, since war time is general and there will be no exceptions.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS MEETING AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Feb. 4.—At this week's meeting of the Youngsville board of education, held in the school building, a report was given by Mrs. Robertson, school nurse, that there are several cases of the three-day type of measles. For this disease, the patient is to be confined to his home for a seven day period but other members of the family, including other school children in the family are not under quarantine. This matter was carefully discussed at as there has been some confusion as to the time the child with three-day measles should be out of school.

Announcement was made that daylight saving for war time would begin in Youngsville school on Monday, Feb. 9th. Because of the military registration, and the fact that some of the teachers are helping in the registration there will be no school on Monday, Feb. 16th.

Bids were received for school supplies and the contract given to the lowest bidder, Hertz Brothers of Clearfield.

It was also decided to give a token of appreciation of their efforts to all pupils of the church school who had perfect attendance for the last year or for a longer period. The presentation are to be made at Easter time. Decoration of the walls by painting was considered for several Sunday school rooms, the work to be undertaken as soon as the weather permits.

BRIEFS

A well attended and interesting meeting of the Orange Circle was held on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George Schmidt. Following the social time a tureen dinner was enjoyed. Mrs. Charles Briggs will be the March hostess. In a recent list of the 1942 of ficers of the Youngsville Town-send Club, the name of the second vice president was incorrectly given. This officer is Richard Hartley.

In the Methodist church on Sunday, Feb. 15th, at the morning service, a roll of the membership of the church will be taken. Members are being presented certificates of church membership and asked to re-affirm their church vows. Sunday, Feb. 22, will be Laymen's Day when the men of the church will have charge of the morning service.

POVERTY PARTY The Try Company Class of the United Brethren church held a Poverty Party Friday evening at the home of Miss Helen Melton. The young ladies came in rags, bringing something to divide with some one else in the group. The collection of articles was taken up in a drum with the motto, "Keep Drumming."

After the social part of the evening a devotional program was conducted with the thought that Christ was poor and understood the needs of the poor and promises them rich spiritual gifts.

AIR RAID DRILLS

In connection with the announcement that plans are being completed for an air raid drill in the near future at the Warren High School, a list of rules for conduct during such an emergency prove timely and interesting.

The stock phrase, "It can't happen here," is obsolete.
Anything can happen here or anywhere else.

The following set of rules were issued for an eastern metropolis, but a study of them should prove helpful to all readers. No industrial section of the United States is immune and our turn may come in time:

Remain calm and do not be frightened. Much more damage can be caused by panic than by falling building materials or even bombs themselves.

Seek shelter in center portions of the nearest building; if at home, remain there. Avoid the top and lower stories of buildings and stay away from windows and outside walls.

Keep out of subways. They are not safe in air raids.
Motorists should park their cars as quickly as possible and go to the nearest building.

Obeys orders of proper authorities—police and fire officials in uniform and air-raid wardens with arm-band insignia.

Avoid the use of telephones, but keep radios turned on for instructions.

Put out lights, which may guide enemy planes, and pull down shades.

If bombs should fall, lie down, whether at home or outside, and keep as far as possible from windows which may be shattered.
Turn off gas and electric connections if possible.

Do not believe rumors. Await official notices.

Use common sense and do not become panicky.

The Office of Civilian Defense also suggests that housewives make advance preparations in their homes so that every window, glass door or exterior opening where light might be visible can be covered quickly by curtain or screens.

HOW TO SHORTEN THE WAR

The quicker we get serious about this thing, the sooner it's over.

Every saving, every sacrifice, every extra bit of production accomplished now will save three sacrifices, make unnecessary three savings, render unneeded three measures of production next year. Every step that can be taken in conservation now puts off the day of rationing. Every speedup in preparation that can be made today will save American blood and American lives tomorrow. Every drop of sweat we shed today may save a drop of blood or a tear tomorrow.

We Americans have not yet become serious about this war. We know that a desperate rubber shortage looks us in the face, a situation in which every scrap of rubber may be required for military purposes. And what do we do? Why, most of us go on driving our cars about as usual.

We read every day of tankers sunk in the Atlantic and in the Pacific, a certain forerunner of gasoline shortages if it continues. And what do we do? We go on burning up gasoline in aimless "driving about."

We know that difficulties in sugar distribution, if not an actual shortage, are a possibility. And what do we do? We stir six spoonfuls of sugar into a cup of coffee and allow three of them to be carried out in the bottom of the cup.

We know that the best possible protection against future inflation as well as against present rising prices and unhealthy borrowings from banks is to buy Defense bonds and stamps. And what do we do? We buy the bonds and stamps, all right (over a billion dollars' worth in January) but it is not enough.

Knitting is a help to the armed forces, but what do we do? In too many cases we knit aimlessly, using up valuable wool without first ascertaining that the product is exactly what is needed by the Army and Navy at the time. We pop into new uniforms in many branches of civilian service in which uniforms are of no help, using cloth that may be badly needed.

The will to help is unlimited. We have not yet learned to correlate our efforts so as to bring them to bear at the point most needed. This will come, but it will come only by each person asking himself, "Am I doing all I can, NOW? Have I assurance from responsible authority that what I am doing is valuable? Have I fully realized that every effective blow struck now may count for two or three blows later?"

It is not at all hysterical to say that the entire future of our country depends on how effectively we function, not in 1943, but NOW. Almost a tenth of 1942 is already past. In the South Pacific, in Africa, on Europe's northeast coast, on the Russian front, time will not wait for us.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Whose stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard.—Proverbs 21:13.

• EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 5.—The capital of your United States is really something to marvel at. The big things it gets done—the way it does them, it's the "how" that calls for the amazement.

Things haven't yet been reduced to the simplicity of a bunch of robots armed with rubber stamps —put a paper in front of them, they scan it, if OK, the right hand comes down with a freshly inked "APPROVED," if NG, the left hand comes down gently with a
"RECEIVED AND CONTENTS NOTED" stamp and a voice from a loud speaker in the geared but gutless interior of the robot clears its throat and says, "Please leave this with me for investigation."

That stage hasn't been reached yet, but the condition once removed from it has been achieved. For lack of a better term it might be called, "Government by Cliches." It is really remarkable how easy it is to run a government with a few well-chosen, stereotyped phrases.

Just glance at a row of them:
The first cliché that a visitor to Washington encounters is, "I'm sorry, but we have nothing available until Thursday." This is spoken by all the hotel clerks in reply to requests for a room. The only way to get around this is to make your reservation in advance and get it confirmed.

If a stranger goes to see his congressman, he runs into Congressional Cliche No. 1, reserved for constituents and voters—"How can I be of help to you while you're in Washington?" The flowerier orators and smoothies will add,
"Pray command me," or "I am, you know, but a servant of the people." The net effect of these cliches is usually to startle the visitor so that he ends up by apologizing for the intrusion and walking out with nothing more than a handshake. The way to call this congressional bluff is to demand a hotel room.

When a visitor does get his problem told to someone in the government, he will encounter Cliche No. 3—"I know just the man to take care of your case."
This is what might be known in football as a line shift. It has the effect of throwing your guards and tackles off balance and you pull in your ends. Watch for a pass. You are about to be passed on to someone else. As you leave, you will have dined into your ears the initials of the cliché, with various modifications.

"I fully sympathize with your problem."

"I'll see that this intolerable situation is corrected."

"Next time you're in Washington, let's have lunch together."
This last one is usually delivered while the speaker glances at his watch and an apology for not having able to buy lunch that day because of previous engagement, and it's a haymaker. It leaves the caller with the impression he has been invited to lunch by this great man, congressman or administrator, and he leaves in a glow.

"Contact Mr. X over in PDQ," is the most frequently heard cliché in Washington. Only the name and the initials of the agency are changed to fit the situation. You never "call" Mr. X, or "go to see" PDQ. You must "contact." A man in Washington is known by the contacts he keeps.

In contact, then, with the man who knows just what to do about your situation, you state the case again, whereupon you will meet up with these additional clichés:
"This isn't exactly in our department, but let me put you in contact with Y."

"We used to handle this but that activity has now been transferred to QRS."

"The law creating this agency doesn't give us authority to act in this case."

From this you can see that Washington is a place of hidden (Turn to Page Twelve)

• STORIES IN STAMPS

Newfoundland Honors
Memory of Grenfell

CLOSELY allied with the development of Labrador and Newfoundland, the name of Sir Wilfred T. Grenfell is known to every sailor, hunter, trapper and school boy of those rugged northern coasts.

The stamp above, issued in 1941, a year after Sir Wilfred's death, pictures the physician on the steamship Strathcona II looking across the water at his hospital ship Maraval.

Sir Wilfred was born in England in 1865. He graduated at Oxford and studied medicine at the London hospital, Whitechapel.
After his studies were completed he devoted himself to reform work among the sailors of the North Sea, establishing homes on land and mission vessels at sea.

In 1892 Sir Wilfred went to Labrador to continue his work. He erected hospitals, co-operative stores, factories, an orphan's home, and a school. He extended his efforts to Newfoundland and in 1912 opened a seamen's institute at Saint John's.

A doctor in a land where doctors were scarce, Grenfell soon achieved wide fame. He laid great stress on improving the physical, social, and economic conditions of the seamen of the coast.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Phil Baker, pausing between attacks upon his income tax report, was discussing embarrassing moments.
In twenty-five years of show business, he believes a little scene he and Jack Benny should come close to being tops for unpredictable results.

That was the time Sid Grauman opened his million dollar theater—long before Baker or Benny had become radio stars.
Grauman wanted them to make a joint entrance in an elevator that shot up out of a trap door. Preceding the comedians were to be several lavish production numbers involving scores of beautiful girls.

The rehearsals went along well, but the night before the show opened Enrico Caruso died, and Grauman decided upon a few changes in the show without telling Benny and Baker anything about them.

Grauman opened the theater in darkness, and twelve trumpets played "Taps" from the balcony, while the chorus girls, clad in white robes, appeared carrying taper candles singing "Nearer My God To Thee" and "They Needed
a Songbird in Heaven So God Took Caruso Away."

Then came one minute of silence in tribute to the great opera singer.

Just then the trap door flew open and out shot Baker and Benny. . . . They had been booked for ten weeks. . . . But the show closed in one. Phil says he can still "feel" the terrible silence that greeted them when they made their appearance.

NEW YORK'S cops pounce on panhandlers with ever increasing gusto. If you get caught mooning without a license, it's the jug. I know a writer who began paying more attention to the bottle than he did his typewriter, with the result that he acquired a local reputation as a lush, couldn't hold a job, and finally wound up on the beach. He was picked up by the cops for asking for dimes and quarters on the streets not so long ago. Undaunted, he sent this note to some of his newspaper friends: "I'm in the jug for panhandling and I'm out of cigarettes. How about sending me over a few?" The boys took up a collection and sent him a carton of his favorite brand.

JOHN SELBY reports this little traffic sequence at high noon on a recent day. So many motorists were crowding the avenue that at this particular corner
Two traffic policemen were on duty.

Suddenly a pedestrian, weary of waiting for the light to change, thrust two fingers into his mouth and let out a piercing whistle.
The two cops at once held up their hands and changed the traffic. Each thought the other had given a blast on his whistle.

AMERICANS: ISN'T THIS A GREAT PICTURE?

Yes, it is. For, aside from its good photographic composition, it symbolizes the will of our fleet to hunt down the enemy and take the offensive. The new picture shows our vessels of the Pacific fleet executing a sweeping turn beneath Navy scout planes. Note how items of plane equipment have been whited out by Navy censor.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINETT

WASHINGTON—Capital in Wartime:

It may seem a little old now, but the letter was late arriving, has never been made public and probably never will be. It came from a government official who had gone to Wake Island to inspect the construction work going on there. He is a civilian who has never had more than a speaking acquaintance with either the Army or the Navy.

In a brief ten lines he mentioned that the Japs had been attacking the island intermittently from the air and from the sea; that there had been some casualties.

Then, for more than 300 words, he detailed his findings in connection with the construction work. He was all at odds with the Navy for the way some of the work had been done. The window casings particularly perturbed him. The specifications and materials weren't made to stand up in the tropical sea air. He had explained to the Navy that they had been very foolish; that their buildings were not being built to last in that climate.

His last line was to the effect that he didn't think the Navy would do any more construction work like that on Wake Island in the near future.

The report was dated Dec. 21, 1941—one day before Wake Island fell to the Japs—and that's the last the government has heard of their construction inspector, to whom it apparently never occurred that his personal safety was as important as whether the window casings in the island barracks would weather tropical heat and rain.

In the splendid little Treasury Department projection room (those soft, bouncy projection room seats would make a Hollywood producer turn green) they held the first showing recently of the Donald Duck income tax short. It's a technical color blurb about paying your income tax of which both Walt Disney and the Treasury can well be proud. Disney turned it out in 2½ weeks, and delivered it to the treasury for distribution more than ten days ahead of schedule.

There is, though, this little story behind it. In conference with Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Disney agreed to make the picture for cost. He set down a column of figures and ran through them hurriedly. The total was amazingly low and would have sounded like chicken feed to even a minor treasury official.

"That's fine, that's wonderful," said Mr. Morgenthau. Then the brow of the man who juggles America's billions furrowed, and he added: "But where are we going to get the money?"

Maybe Disney—or Donald Duck—told him.

The Treasury Department, by the way, is going Hollywood in some other ways than getting its taxes publicized by Disney shorts. I mean those usherettes.

The treasury these days isn't open to the public and if you are just an ordinary taxpayer without official identification, you have to step up, state your business and get okayed. After that, you are turned over to an usherette—snappy young ladies who escort you to the office in the building where you have business.

They wear uniforms, too—a sort of airline hostess coat and skirt and a jaunty little overseas cap.

When the tailor took the order, he was told that the uniforms were for usherettes and he started designing in movie theater lines.

The treasury sent them back for remodeling. They were, the department explained, a little extreme.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Letters to the Editor

Warren Pa Jan 5 1942
Editor Times-Mirror

I am not a member of the Chamber of Commerce but I have knowledge of the work that Mr. H. W. Correll the secretary has done for the people of Warren in the past three years. I hear a good bit of gossip about his resignation and from what I hear I judge that the directors have not acted on it.

I am convinced that Mr. Correll's cooperation on all matters of propositions that have been put up to him has made more friends for the Chamber than it ever had before. He takes time to help any one who goes to his office, whether it is a member or not.

If the members agree with me that he has done a good job they should by all means let their directors know how they feel about it, for the directors won't know unless some one tells them and delay in the matter may result in our losing a very fine helpful and worthwhile citizen.

Perhaps the members are like I am dependent on gossip in this matter. If that is the case they should find out the facts before it is too late.

Respectfully
Harry R. Baxter

Red Cross Benefit Concert Being Presented Here Tomorrow Evening

Everything is in readiness for the Red Cross benefit concert to be presented at the high school auditorium here tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock by the Titusville Elks' Choir under the direction of Father William J. Moore, pastor of St. Joseph's church here. The concert is being sponsored by Warren Lodge, No. 223, B. P. O. Elks, and all proceeds will be turned over to the emergency war relief fund if the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross.

In addition to the varied program by the choir, the concert also will include two groups of piano selections by Father Moore, one of the best known musicians in this section. Father Moore will play one group of Chopin compositions and one group by Rachmaninoff.

Indications today pointed to a large attendance at the concert. It was announced that those who are unable to purchase tickets in advance may obtain them at the door tomorrow night.

Following is the complete program for the concert: National Anthem—Audience singing. The Choir—Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee—J. Bach. Beautiful Saviour—Crusader's Hymn. Vesper Hymn—Russian Tradition.

Father Moore—Two Preludes, C Minor and A Major—Chopin. Nocturne F Sharp Major—Chopin. Polonaise (Militaire)—Chopin. The Choir—(Folk Songs)—How Can I Leave Thee, Santa Lucia. Swing Low, Sweet Chariot. Londonery Air. Song of the Volga.

Intermission. Father Moore—Prelude C Sharp Minor—Rachmaninoff. Polchmelle—Rachmaninoff. The Choir—Ave Marie Stella—Grieg. Old Refrain—Vienneuse. The Heavens Are Telling—Bethoven.

Supintendent of Schools John G. Rossman and Herbert H. Nichols, local manual training instructor, were conferring today on the possibility of Warren joining with other communities of Pennsylvania in having school children make model airplanes for the army and navy to use in training flights. It has been requested that 45,000 of the model planes be built in the state.

If the program is undertaken here, the materials will have to be furnished by the school district. Availability of materials is one of the questions being discussed.

The bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department will issue certificates of award for completion of models that pass inspection. The model planes are to be built to scale and can be used in training air and ground personnel in recognition, range estimation, and determination of cones of fire according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg.

While the hurry-up call for a total of 500,000 model aircraft from school children of the nation went out from the navy, the models will be used by the army as well and in connection with training "spotters" for civilian defense.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, promptly designated Urvn Rowntree, chief of industrial education, as state director of the model aircraft project.

Dr. Haas called on all supervising and high school principals, superintendents and other public, private and parochial school officials to join in the job of turning out the planes.

Pennsylvania children are asked to produce 900 sets of 50 planes each. The Federal Office of Education said the minimum quota for any one school system should be one complete set of 50 different models.

Dr. J. W. Shoemaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, notified Dr. Haas that only the simplest shop equipment is needed, if there is one or more instructors who understand the reading of blueprints and the demands of precision work which this project requires.

TOLL CIRCUITS OF TELEPHONE FIRM DAMAGED

Sleet and heavy snow which fell in the Oil City district during the night resulted in toll circuits of the Bell Telephone Company being put out of order and necessitated the sending of extra crews from several surrounding communities to repair the damage, it was reported today.

While the full extent of the damage was not known here, it was stated that toll circuits out of Oil City to Pittsburgh, Erie and other points were affected. Only circuits from Oil City which were operating this morning were those to Warren, Clarion, Tionesta, Knox and Franklin.

Repair crews were called out early this morning, as soon as the lines went out of order, and there was no indication as to when they would complete the repairs.

Warren and vicinity had a five-inch fall of snow during the night that put borough and highway department crews to work clearing the streets and highways. With the rise in temperature, residents found the snow heavy and hard to handle.

The official statement issued by the telephone company here today concerning the trouble said:

Three circuits between Warren and Oil City were out of order this morning as a result of the snow, rain and sleet storm. Two toll circuits remain in service.

When the trouble was reported, repair crews from this city, DuBois and Bradford were called. They started on the job at once, traveling over roads glazed with ice.

First reports from the repairmen in the field indicated that no poles were down.

Oil City is not in the territory of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania but important Bell System toll lines run through or near there.

The storm also affected service between Oil City and Pittsburgh.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

"All Through the Night", which opens Friday and Saturday at the Library Theatre, chalks up a high score of thrills, action and rousing screen excitement. It is the story of an ex-gangster who goes after the Gestapo, using just about the same tactics he used against rival mobs in Prohibition days. With Humphrey Bogart as the gangster, a wonderful supporting cast which includes Kaaren Verne, Conrad Veidt, Judith Anderson, Peter Lorre, Jane Darwell and Frank McHugh, "All Through the Night" spells entertainment plus.

TONY ZALE ON WAY TO GOTHAM TO FIND CONN

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(U.P.)—Tony Zale, world's middleweight champion, slammed his training paraphernalia into grip sacks today and departed for New York with murder in his heart.

The usually modest Zale, who rarely boasts of his fighting ability, was scoured. He had taken to heart the statements credited to Billy Conn shouting from Pittsburgh that he'd start swinging at Zale for keeps, even before crawling into the ring to fight for important dough in Madison Square Garden a week from tomorrow night.

"Who does that Conn think he is?" Zale asked. "Why doesn't he get paid for it. He'll need it, I'm telling you. Joe Louis slowed him down so much that he had a tough time licking a couple of very ordinary heavyweights in the last six weeks. I know I can outfight him and I think he knows it, too. He's no super boxer. He can be tagged. Joe Louis proved that."

Zale is to box Conn 12 rounds or less and he insists it will be less, with Conn on the floor.

The general impression in New York is that Conn perhaps will out-box the dangerous Zale. But there's always the chance of an upset when Zale swings. He always means those wicked punches.

Chapter Eight

Cryptic Message

"Then, one hand under my elbow, Goodwin drew her closer, held her so that she looked deep into her eyes for a long, heart-stopping moment."

"I think I've found a real treasure," he murmured. "I'm very fortunate."

Her cheeks aflame, Sharon smiled up at him happily. Smiled until, in the next moment, she saw the Countess standing in the doorway behind him.

"I'm so sorry to interrupt," her voice was flute-like with sweetness. "I had no idea you were occupied. Harvey darling."

"Come in, Edda. Sharon has just brought me good news."

"How delightful. May I hear it too?"

"The lost is found. Thanks to her."

Turning to Sharon, the Countess's smile altered almost imperceptibly. "How clever of you to have found it so quickly. Thank you so much."

"That was careless of you, Edda," Mr. Goodwin reproved sharply. "After all, those codes are pretty important."

"I know," the Countess sank gracefully into a deep chair. "You really shouldn't trust me with anything. I'm so terribly incompetent."

About as incompetent as a Borgias, Sharon amended silently, and as deadly. That envelope had been bait for a trap of some kind. She was sure of that. And only because she had come down to Harvey Goodwin, had it failed to ensnare her. Just what the Countess had planned, she would probably never know. Nor why. Puzzled, and frightened now, too, she masked her swirling emotions behind a calm smile.

"I came to tell your clever Miss Doyle that her handsome escort is looking for her," the Countess purred, clasping her lovely, heavily-ringed fingers behind her head. Sharon's glance fled to Goodwin's, meeting there an amused little grimace.

"I was afraid of this. Shall we go?" His gesture included them both.

The Countess closed her eyes wearily. "Be a dear and get me an aspirin. I've a ghastly headache. Miss Doyle will excuse you, won't she?"

"Of course," Sharon said promptly and escaped, stinging under the Countess's obvious dismissal.

She'd have to carry more ammunition than this, if she was to defend herself in this undeclared war, she told herself hotly as she sped down the hall. The Countess wasn't firing any blank shots. And yet, Mr. Goodwin's remark came back to complicate her thinking; he had said the Countess would be of great help to her!

At the arched doorway, she bumped suddenly into Tom. He said and stepped out of the shadow of the terrace door directly into her path.

"No, I—I was looking for you," he grinned, he drew it out of his pocket. "Found it—right where you left it."

Sharon tried not to let her amazement show. "Found it—right—hang on to it now," and he thrust it into her hand.

"Thanks. I'd like to have lost it. It was mother's. She gave it to me when I was sixteen. Chatting like a magpie and proving she was nervous, she flayed herself silently."

Then, afraid to meet Tom's eyes and yet more to Tom not to see, she finally dared to look up. For an instant she returned her glance, smiling steadily. Sharon's heart raced. Did he too know that she had left this little bag in the guest room, and that she knew positive, by it had been the one all the time?

The Sea At Night

FOR a moment that seemed an eternity Tom didn't answer. Finally the laugh lines around his eyes deepened.

"You're a sly one! Sending me chasing after your precious bag while you slip off to a tete-a-tete with your host!"

Sharon flushed. "Don't be ridiculous. Mr. Goodwin just wanted me to see this."

"His etchings?" Tom suggested when she hesitated.

"His—his picture!" she fibbed desperately, clutching a vague impression of high-colored maps decorating his study walls.

Tom nodded. "I noticed them. Look like good imitations of the famous Goodwin maps of the Pacific area."

"Yes, lovely aren't they?" And, anxious to get away from the subject, "Really, I'm just dying for a drink. Shall we—"

"No, you're not," Tom denied flatly. "Another cocktail and you'd be forgetting I was here. Let's beat it. I'm tired of competing with Goodwin for your attention. Besides, I've got to have a chance to tell you privately how much I like the way your nose wrinkles when you laugh."

Sharon wrinkled the nose in question and decided that there was nothing in Tom's warm brown eyes to tell her more than that he liked her a lot and didn't expect her to do anything more than be a useful, on Harvey Goodwin. And that, she admitted with a little shrug, wasn't far wrong.

"All right, I'll get my wrap," Tom called after her. "Not in Goodwin's study, remember!"

Laughing, she returned to the pretty apricot and blue powder room. There, face to face with herself in the mirror, she slipped into the gray fur wrap and shivered. That had been a close call. She wasn't positive yet that she hadn't roused Tom's suspicions. If she had, he'd be just clever enough to play dumb.

Later, in the tiny elevator cage, push-lined like a royal coach, Sharon tried once more to interpret the expression in Tom's eyes. Catching her at it, he nodded gravely. "Eyes are brown," he opened them wide, "height six feet two," and he stood very still. "I might about one seventy," and patted his midriff. "I have no bad habits. I see my dentist twice a year, and—"

"And are so charming it's a wonder the girls don't fall for you in droves," Sharon finished.

"Oh, they do. I beat 'em off with clubs."

"Poor dear," and wondered how she would ever take him off guard, unprotected by this clowning he wore like an armor over his real thoughts.

"Let's drive out to the beach and watch the moon come up," he suggested as he put her into his big, comfortable car.

"Oh, it's late and I'm exhausted," Sharon said and he thought of her on home ahead of her. Had Dennis gotten the note? Had he needed her and been unable to locate her?

"It isn't late and you're fresh as a daisy," Tom said, and calmly turned the car toward the beach. "Besides, it's too nice a night to go indoors yet."

And too wonderful an opportunity to creep into the confidence of this witty buffoon, Sharon realized. She'd have to worry about Dennis later. Right now, her job had priority.

It was gorgeous out along the marina. The wind had swept the sky and polished the stars until the heavens were a jewelled canopy. And the waves lunged up on the beach, churning the surf to white fury.

Warning

TOM stopped the car at a point overlooking the entrance to the harbor. Black waters, restless, spread from the calm bosom of the Bay out into the mighty swells of the ocean.

"Now tell me all about yourself," he said and slipping his arm around her, drew her head against his shoulder.

Automatically, Sharon stiffened. Then, a quiet little smile curving her lips, she relaxed, her forehead against his cheek. "No, tell me about you first."

"Nothing to tell. A little about electricity. Got me a job."

That sounded innocent enough, she scoffed silently. And sharpened her wits for the next try. "Got yourself a lot of butterfly recommendations, that's me. I'm lauded and what not, too, if I remember recommendations and letters."

He brushed that flattery aside with a laugh. "Sure. Just a potential Steinmetz, that's me. If I were really smart, I'd be able to figure out what you got on in that pretty head you've got."

"Thanks, mister, for assuming something does go on."

He grinned. "You're all right, my sweet," and looked down at her so long Sharon squirmed a little.

"Look," he said finally, "do me a favor. What?"

"Quit your job at Sierra Steel tomorrow and go home and marry that nice boy that's waiting for you."

Sharon laughed. "There's no nice boy waiting for me."

"Well, go home anyway. Will you?"

"Why?"

"Because you don't belong here. I'd like to see you get out before it's too late."

Sharon's lips tightened. "It seems to me, you take very much for granted."

"Maybe. But this time I'm sure I'm right. I even asked Goodwin to fire you."

"You didn't!" Sharon's temper went absolutely A.W.O.L. "If it's all the same to you, Tom Stafford," and she jerked open the door, "you mind your business! I'm not going to quit my job tomorrow or the next day or the next. I like my job. I can do it well enough to please Mr. Goodwin. So unless you happen to like it, I'm sticking."

"You're stuck, you mean?"

"Have it your own way. Now, if you'll please take me home."

"Even your voice crackles when you're mad, doesn't it?" he said, and she knew he was laughing at her. "You remind me of a canary in a cage. You're a little like a prima donna in full voice, and then all of a sudden she's off into a rage and try to get out of her cage."

"Really. Do go on."

"She got out finally. We found her on the sidewalk, dead."

"How tragic," Sharon mocked him, still seething.

"Electrocuted by a high tension wire." Then, grinning at her so warmly her temper dissolved in spite of her. "Moral to that little tale is—pretty little maidens ought to stay in the cage."

MANY DOCTORS OF DISTRICT IN NAVAL SERVICE

Northwestern Pennsylvania has given more of its physicians to the services than any other part of the country of equal size and population, according to information received from the public relations office of the Fourth Naval District at Philadelphia.

Those from Warren and North Warren who are now serving in the Fourth Naval District are Lieutenants E. J. Fogel, Quay A. McCune and H. S. Cravell. Also in the navy but not in this district is Dr. William M. Cashman, of Warren.

Two of the four Kane specialists, Lieut. Commander W. B. Moss, Lieut. John L. Morrison are in surgery at the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia. Lieut. Commanders Guy S. Vogan and Francis Bodine, of Kane, are examining recruits at the Philadelphia Custom House as temporary duty.

Other doctors from this section now serving in the Fourth Naval District are Commander Jules L. Waterman, Lieut. Commander J. A. Kervin and Lieut. Commander H. S. Callen, of Bradford.

Yesterday I explained the system of responses to an opening two-bid as advocated by Al Weiss, a strong New York player. His system also requires that if a player opens with a suit bid of one, and if he actually holds the normal requirement of two and one-half tricks, he must treat any jump response by his partner in the same way he would treat an opening two-bid bid. In other words, a two-bid inaugurates the showing of controls for jump purposes, and so does the jump take-out of a one-bid.

Today's hand is cited by Weiss as an example under his system. North's bid of two hearts says, "Partner, respond just as you would if I had opened the auction with two hearts—provided of course that you have not made a psychic bid."

South's bid of two spades guarantees the ace. North now bids three diamonds to give South a chance to show the diamond king, if he has it, by a raise to four. Lacking any kings, South would bid three no trump, but he is able to bid three spades to show that king. North bids four clubs to find out about the queen.

South's five hearts now says several things. First, I don't have the diamond king you asked about. I do have heart support. I do have the club queen, or I would not have jumped.

North knows that South had the club ace for his opening bid, since he did not have the diamond king. He can see that the king can discard his losing diamond on the king of spades. So he bids the grand slam. In duplicate South goes to seven no trump.

KANE PLAYER OWNS SCORING LEAD AS 2ND HALF BEGINS

Spenk Tops First Ten With 83 in Seven Games; Bracers Well Ahead in Team Scoring

Smashing through with 16 points against Warren last Friday night, Kane's Spenk, climaxed the first half scoring race by forging into first place from second, three points ahead of Johnsonburg's Franzak, who led Spenk by nine before the final first half contests were played.

The stellar Kane pivot man wound up with an average at the half-way mark of 11.9, nearly a full point under Franzak's mark of a week ago, but 8 of a point better than was his own at that period.

Fred Fling and Red Barry, both of them Bradford gunners, followed Franzak in respective positions of third and fourth, with 77 and 69 points.

Parks, of Emporium, boasted a better average than did Barry, having played in only six games, but trailed the Owl ace by seven markers with a total of 62. Martin Smith, only Warren candidate remaining in the first ten, also collected 62 counters during the first round, but engaged in seven contests, placing him sixth among the leaders.

The remainder of the first ten was completed by Mike Steffan and Nick Otto of Sheffield, with 60 and 58 respectively, Joco, of Ridgway, with 57, and DeStephano, one-time leader, of Johnsonburg, who had added 55.

In team scoring, the defending champions stayed away out in front of the field, compiling 132 field goals and 96 foul points for a total of 320 in seven clashes, while Joe Massa's Sheffield Wolverines, still rated as a dangerous "dark horse", ended second with 263, and Warren followed in third place, which was claimed a week ago by Johnsonburg, the Dragons managing 229 points on 87 buckets and 55 fouls.

Johnsonburg was fourth with 222. Kane fifth with 211, Ridgway ended sixth with 201, St. Marys, seventh, with 199, and Emporium was found at the bottom of the pile with only 150 points, less than half the number claimed by the charges of Coach Harold Brace, current league leaders.

Spenk, being nearly the whole show at Kane, probably will have a golden opportunity to add a number of points to his total tomorrow night when the Wolves entertain St. Marys, while Warren and Sheffield stars may be tied down as the two teams tie into each other. Johnsonburg's contenders look for several scoring opportunities on their home court against weak Emporium, while Bradford's sharpshooters should get plenty of practice against Ridgway on the Owl court.

Below are the unofficial final first half scoring statistics of teams and individuals, as compiled by the Times-Mirror sports department.

IT WASN'T EVERYTHING LOST AND NOTHING GAINED FOR THE '37-'38 CHAMPS WHEN THEY LOST TUESDAY; WON VERDICT AT FOUL LINE

Ever since the 1937-'38 Champions fell down in defeat before a pair of enemies, the Dragons, and their being out of condition, the backers of the former schoolboy dream team when Warren used to rule the Northern League with tiring regularity (for the remaining seven members), have been trying to come up with a reason for defeat or at least a substantial consolation for the victims of that 38-29 decision in the Red Cross benefit game. Hoping to aid the cause, we'll offer the following. While the Dragons racked up sixteen baskets to 11 for the losers, mainly due to the fact that the Champions couldn't find the range to the basket unless they were on top of it, from the charity stripe, it was a clean cut decision for the men of Coach Luke Noecker. In the first quarter, the Dragons had four foul shots, made only two, while the Champions had only two and made both of them. In the second quarter, the Dragons managed to stay even, when both teams made two out of three. In the third, the Dragons had but one shot, made it, while the Champions made two out of three attempts. But in the fourth quarter came the payoff, when the Champions had only one try and made it good, and the Kolpiennens failed twice in three efforts. It added up, in case you didn't notice in the box score account of the game last night, to 6 out of 12 for the high school; 7 out of 9, darn good shooting, for the Champions.

Strikes to Spare... The Akron Killian Celtics, who compete in several sports, including baseball—they played the National Forge last summer—also have a crack men's bowling team... They hold eighth place among the top ten of the nation's men's teams in high team totals with 3774, are first in high team games with 1274... Harry Hornburg, of Silver Creek, N. Y., is second among the nation's men in high individual totals with a scorching 812... Bill Miller, of Cliffside Park, N. J., leads the pack with $22,100 first money in Indianapolis blonde alley bomber, recently won $22,100 first money in the Bowling Lanes Annual Ladies' Classic... Previous to this she had hung up high honors in women's individual totals with 756... Bowlers of the nation have purchased $375,000 in Defense Bonds and Stamps... Mostly for converting idle prize funds into the Stamps and awarding same as prizes when the time arrives... The Milwaukee Badger-Jims team recently scored fifteen strikes in the twelfth frame of their first game of a match... Then proceeded to get fourteen in the last frame of their second game... 29 out of a possible 30 isn't bad, is it? Out in Fort Atkinson, Wis., a pretty little lady bowler found her face awfully red the other night... Her ball hooked between the 3 and 10 without disturbing either pin.

Quickies... In the 28 games of the first half of Northern League competition, we managed to pick 25 correctly to boost our 1942 forecasting average up near the ceiling... An average of .893... Hoping to do as well through the remainder of the program... Here we go again: Warren over Sheffield, if the Dragons play ball, but the spotlight is on this clash tomorrow night, and on Sheffield's court, it should be close... Johnsonburg to run up the score at home against Emporium... Kane to knock off St. Marys on the Wolves' own court... This is the opposite of the way we picked it during the first half... And Bradford to toy with Ridgway on the Owl court... Only one we're worrying about is the Warren game... And tossing an one we're predicting... Should the Dragons lose here, they'll end up ahead prediction... Second where they're favored to quit, with Bradford third instead of second in the second half... Barry and Fling were on top, Sheffield second in individual scoring before the last game in the first half... Frisina was only one goal behind Fling, but 20 points behind... The reason: Fling had made 20 foul shots, Frisina only two... Dean Nelson and Bob Wright are still tied going into the second half in their individual point-getting efforts... With one game remaining in the first part of the sched, they both had 41, and both scored 11 points against Kane to stay even at 52.

EAGLES READY FOR IMPORTANT LOOP CONTEST

Ready for their second shot at Cranberry High, and with everything to gain though plenty to lose it beaten, Youngsville High school's eagles play host to the Tri-County League leaders tomorrow night in one of the top-flight games in the area.

Captain Dave Clark's being back in the lineup has added considerable strength to the Eagles, and with the extra scoring punch they're expected to come off the floor with the decision.

Meanwhile, Kinzua invades Lander in the Upper Allegheny League, still hunting its first victory in seven starts, while Sugar Grove, and Russell will mix at Sugar Grove, a win for the visiting crew meaning a tie with the Grove for first place. Earlier in the campaign, however, the Grove toppled the defending champions and are slight choices to do it again tomorrow night.

Bradford Dog Remains In Field Trial Event

Albany, Ga., Feb. 5.—(P)—The Texas Ranger, defending champion, led a fast field of 15 other high-ranking hunting dogs into the second day one-hour heats of the $1500 Quail Field Trial Championship here today.

Other contenders for dogdom's "World Series" crown included Surracho, owned by Frank Miller of Bradford, Pa. War Admiral, owned by Dr. Thomas Jones of Chicago, found six coveys yesterday, and Surracho handled three.

Ex-Swim Star Gets 2nd Shot at Axis

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—(P)—Johnny Macionis is after another crack at the Japs and the Germans. The former Yale and Olympic swimming star who competed in Tokyo and Berlin has quit a foreman's job in a factory to enlist in the U. S. Coast Guard, He's 25.

In 1935 as a freshman at Yale, Macionis won the National AAU 440-yard championship and established a world record of 4:50.8, since broken. That same year he toured Japan with an American amateur team.

Macionis traveled to Berlin for the Olympics in 1936 and placed second in the 800-meter free-style.

No Favorite is Established For WHS-Wolverine Game In Sheffield Tomorrow Night

Out to evenge their first half defeat at the hands of the Warren High Dragons on Beatty court, Coach Alce Massa's dangerous Wolverines will play host to the Kolpiennens tomorrow night in the spotlight contest as all eight league entries open fire in last half action.

In their first circuit meeting the Orange and black garbed warriors were impressive, but still a bit shady. They gave a commendable performance, however, and had it not been for Co-Captain Mike Steffan being ejected on fouls, taking with him the spirits of the team, midway the third period, the Massmen might have registered a win in the first time.

In that event, they managed to come from far behind in the last four minutes to bring the score to a scant 27-32 margin in favor of the locals when the final gun ended things.

This time, plus being a team playing in much more complete harmony than before, the Wolverines will offer up Steffan and Nick Otto, outstanding scoring powers, to be combined with Gustafson, Compagno and Yasho, all capable engers prepared to bring about an early downfall for Warren.

On their home court, the Sheffield gladiators have made the 1455 betting even money on the outcome.

Off last Tuesday night's brilliant exhibition of shooting on the part of the Dragons, though, 1455 when they whipped the 1937-38

Champions in the Red Cross benefit, 38-29, Warren will also present its own style of problematic strategy which the Massmen will have to solve in order to triumph.

On other fronts, it will be Emporium at Johnsonburg, where the Jays should rule, St. Marys and Kane, another loss-up expected to be close, and Ridgway giving the Bradford Owls a chance to work out and keep trim.

Tomorrow night's feature attraction at Sheffield is slated for eight o'clock, on the dot, with a preliminary between the rival seconds scheduled at seven.

Six Signed Contracts Returned to Phils, A's

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—(P)—Six more signed contracts were in the files of the A's and the Phils' front offices today.

Al Rubeling, third baseman, Catcher Harold Wagner and Pitchers Phil Marchildon and Dick Fowler, returned their signed agreements to the Athletics while the Phils said Mental May, regular third baseman, and Outfielder Ronald Northey had accepted 1942 terms.

Northey is a rookie from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., of the Eastern League. He led the Class A loop in runs batted in last year.

The first letter on the first two letters of radio call signals indicate the nationality of the nation.

LOOP MEMBERS GUN FOR OWLS IN LAST HALF

With the Champion Bradford Owls, easy winners of first half honors in the Northern League, seven determined members of the circuit start wars tomorrow night with one resolution, to stop the Bracemen and stop them quick.

Seven more contests remain for each team, and especially between sole ownership of the loop gonfalon and the Bradford passers, during which time the Owls will play four home games, while paying three visits.

The second half league schedule is as follows:

Though most individual scores were nothing to rave about around the town's bowling lanes last night, Bob Kopf, the younger half of the Conewango Club's father-son combination on the Bjers team, deserves mention for the feat he accomplished.

Kopf edged the honor circle twice, getting 214 in his first game and 210 in the second, then added a third game of 189 for a 613 total, one of the nicest scores to be reported from the Conewango club this season. He led the Bjers to a three point win over the Parshalls.

Another Bob, Bob Schussler, took honors in the Struthers-Wells league at the Arcade, with a 235 first game, highest in town last evening, and a 580 total, which would have been much higher but for a slump in the second game when he got only 144.

Meanwhile, at the Elks, Bill Weaver had high total of 569, though Wykoff turned in the best single game with a 227 mark, and Timmie Burns followed closely behind with 225.

Bennie McCoy, Mack Beauty, Joins Navy

Chicago, Feb. 5.—(P)—Without fanfare and without advance notice, Bennie McCoy, the Philadelphia Athletics $45,000 beauty, has joined the Navy.

The young second baseman was sworn in yesterday as a coxswain at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, but there was no indication of when he would report.

Previously Bennie had been classed as I-A by his local draft board and had not expected to see action in the major leagues this year.

Batan Eases Up

The Japanese claimed they had shot down or destroyed on the ground 85 planes in Tuesday's raid there. The Dutch admitted "very considerable" losses in aircraft.

Other developments in the worldwide conflict included:
American front—The German high command asserted that Nazi u-boats operating off the Atlantic coast had sunk six more merchant ships totalling 47,000 tons, including a 15,000-ton ore ship.

Burma—The British acknowledged that Japanese patrols had crossed the lower Salween river at a number of points, creating the threat of a direct thrust against Rangoon, the Burmese capital.

A military spokesman said the British command intended to hold Rangoon "at all costs, but if Rangoon should go, it would not mean the end of Burma or of the Burma road."

Dutch East Indies—A Dutch communiqué reported that the commander and part of the Dutch garrison at Balikpapan, Japanese-occupied oil port on the east coast of Borneo, had escaped through Japanese lines and that fighting was still continuing.

Singapore—Japanese warplanes removed high level, dive-bombing and machine-gunning attacks on the island's 750,000 populace and pounded shipping in the harbor. RAF Hurricane fighters intercepted a large formation of Japanese raiders over Singapore itself and destroyed one, probably shot down another and damaged a third.

As the death toll mounted, with 41 killed and 138 wounded in yesterday's attacks, Singapore's ruling ARP warden urged authorities to tunnel hills around the city to provide "shelter for the poorer Asiatic community who have no protection."

to a heavy bombing attack today.

At the same time British patrols were reported to have penetrated the enemy lines on the east bank of the Salween river.

"The military command intended to hold Rangoon 'at all costs, but if Rangoon should go, it would not mean the end of Burma or of the Burma road'."

Rangoon is the chief port for the Burma road, the Allied supply route to China.

Reports from the Salween front said the Japanese still were bailed in their attempts to capture Martaban, across the mouth of the river from Moulmein, by the swift-flowing Salween river itself, and by heavy British artillery fire from the west bank.

Japanese skirmishers were reported strung out all along the lower Salween front, but there were indications they lacked strength, at least for the present, to handle a full-dress assault across the river. Their feeder attempts have been thrown back.

Berlin (From German Broadcasts)—Feb. 5.—(P)—Tokyo dispatches broadcast by the Berlin radio today said that the railway north from Rangoon which feeds China's vital Burma road had "been cut effectively" by a series of Japanese air raids yesterday.

The 52-year-old supervisor of the commonwealth's activities for the blind got the inspiration for his efforts from his wife, who was senior clerk in the legal department of an insurance company at the time of their marriage.

Blind persons not qualified for office work could be used in war industries, he explained, and punching machines and the women helping in munitions factories doing things purely mechanical and requiring only a sense of touch.
